REPORT AND APPEAL TO THE COMMUNITY

LIBRARY ENDOWMENT FUNDS SPECTACULAR PROGRAMS & SERVICES

GPL #1 in Teen Programs for the Fifth Year in a Row!

For the FIFTH year in a row, Groton Public Library has ranked FIRST in total attendance at all teen programs in the state!* This remarkable achievement is due to many factors, but key among them: our superb Teen Librarian, Deborah Dowson; the amazing young adults in Groton who get involved at their library; excellent support in Town for the library and teen services; and the generous funding from the GPL Endowment Trust for teen events, refreshments, supplies, and both YA Summer and Winter Reading Programs. Thank you all for helping to create such a phenomenally successful program!

*Compared to 50 other MA public libraries serving the same population grouping (10K-15K), FY16 data

Groton Library Provides Very High Service Levels to the Community

The recent town operational assessment found that, "The Library has extensive, extensively supported and attended programs not just for children but for adults, seniors and other special populations." Our 'extensive, extensively supported' programs are directly the result of the generosity of the GPL Endowment Trust. The support from the Endowment has allowed the Groton Public Library to thrive, provide a large number of programs and services every year, and to continue to stand out as one of the best small libraries in the state. We are FIRST in the state for the number of residents with library cards, 4th in total number of programs, 4th in meeting room use, 4th in circulation per capita, and 5th in circulation.*

Jeff Kinney Visits Groton!

"JEFF KINNEY CAME TO GROTON TODAY! The 3rd and 4th graders, along with the 5th graders and the 3rd and 4th graders from Swallow Union, got a special treat today. Jeff Kinney, the author of Diary of a Wimpy Kid, came to speak at the PAC! The students were very excited and listened to Jeff talk about how he persevered to become an illustrator and an author. A very special thank you to the Groton Public Library and Karen Dunham, the librarian, for helping to make this event happen."
– Liz Garden, Florence Roche Principal (posted online 9/25/2017)

The GPL Endowment Trust supported this event by providing bus transportation for Swallow Union students to attend, media support, and the brand-new Wimpy Kid books Jeff Kinney signed for the handful of lucky students who received a coveted autographed copy. And it was GPL's terrific Children's Librarian, Karen Dunham, who booked Jeff Kinney to come!

Dear Groton Neighbor,

Greetings!

We offer this report to you at the end of the GPL Endowment Trust's 20th year to share the many ways the Trust benefits the library, to provide an update on the financial health of the Trust, and to ask for your continued support.

Library Benefits. We hope you enjoy this newsletter, but more importantly, we hope you have enjoyed one or more of the many delightful programs, additional services, or new furnishings the Groton Public Library has been able to offer because of the Endowment.

Financial Health. The financial statement of the Trust as of June 30, 2017, shows assets totaling $2,554,006. The Trust invests the principal and grants up to 4% each year for programs and services for the library. In FY2017, $68,961 was expended for grants, and $83,050 has already been approved for FY2018.

Continued Support. The GPL Endowment Trust was established in 1998 by people like you – generous citizens and businesses in Groton and surrounding towns. The Groton Public Library cannot continue to excel without the support of its community. We wish to thank everyone who has contributed in the past and invite everyone to support this vital fund.

How to Donate. To use PayPal, go to gplendowment.org and under "Ways to Give," click on DONATE. Or send a check to the Endowment by mail to:

Adult Summer Reading Numbers Have Gone Through the Roof!

By Lisa Baylis, Head of Circulation Services

This summer, 186 participants read 945 books! Adult participation was up 85% over the past two summers and people read 17% more books! The Circulation Desk was busy all summer long!

Why was this year's Adult Summer Reading Program so successful? It may be a mix of factors:

1. The theme of "Build a Better World" seemed to resonate with our readers. For the first time, patrons of all ages earned donation money for a wonderful Massachusetts charity.
2. Reading prizes were all from the non-profit Ten Thousand Villages, which creates income opportunities for artisans in developing countries by bringing their products and stories to our markets.
3. More programs that appealed to different age groups: Our Henna Tattoos brought in many patrons in their twenties and thirties. The new Adult & YA combined Kickoff Party and Breakout Room Challenges were also huge successes. Many people commented how nice it was to attend with their teens.

Participation more than doubled for this year's Summer Reading Challenge, "Read the World." Could you read books with some connection to each of 8 contiguous countries? Our black & white world wall map soon blossomed with colors as people filled in their literary travel locations.

This was our fourth year offering a Summer Reading Program for Adults, and it continues to grow and garner a bigger response each year! Because, after all, why should kids have all the fun? Adults like reading challenges and to win prizes for reading, too!

Make sure to join us next year! Sign up starts on the last day of school!

You Read Your Way Up to $1,204 for Homes for Our Troops!

This year's summer reading theme was "Build a Better World" and we wanted to do our part. One of the prizes earned for reading this year was a $1 donation to Homes For Our Troops! This top-rated Massachusetts-based charity builds and donates specially-adapted custom homes nationwide for severely injured post-9/11 Veterans, to enable them to rebuild their lives. (For more info: hfotusa.org.)

This summer, over 1,000 people of all ages participated in GPL's Summer Reading Programs for kids, teens, and adults! For meeting certain reading goals, $1 was "earned" for HFOT, and at the end of the summer, a check from the Endowment for $1,204 was sent to HFOT! Great job, Groton readers!

MUSEUM PASS PROGRAM

The GPL Endowment Trust generously provides free or discounted passes to 24 area attractions, where you can enjoy the magic of butterflies in flight at the Butterfly Place, be amazed by seeing lightning being created at the Museum of Science, or delight in the adorable penguins and fascinating sea life at the New England Aquarium.

Museum passes were used 1,131 times last year, which represents a total average savings of $28,000 for pass users! The five most popular passes were (in order): New England Aquarium, Museum of Science, Discovery Museums, Museum of Fine Arts, and the Butterfly Place.

A complete list of passes is available online at gpl.org. Passes may be reserved up to 90 days in advance with your library card number and PIN.

Did you know that GPL staff answered 5,906 reference questions last year?

Children Built a Better World by Reading @ GPL this Summer!

by Karen Dunham, Head of Children's Services

Bus Transportation for School Visits

Seventeen elementary school classes from Florence Roche and Swallow Union (a total of 370 children) visited the library thanks to funding for bus transportation by the Endowment. First grade classes visited in October and other grades are planned for later in the school year.

SUMMER READING PROGRAM

This year's Summer Reading theme inspired and empowered children to build a better world. Not only did children from pre-readers through Grade 5 earn prizes for meeting their reading goals, they also learned that their reading could bring a positive change for others. How was this accomplished? For every child who met their reading goal for at least 3 weeks (thanks to the Endowment!) $1.00 was donated to Homes for Our Troops.

582 children joined the Summer Reading Program and the Endowment funded several presenters whose workshops gave children the opportunity to plan and build a city with LEGOs®, design and create the strongest 'earthquake ready' tower, use coding to create a Minecraft world, and even make their own slime! In addition to these hands-on programs, the Endowment funded many exciting events such as Positive Spin with Brett Outchunis. The super entertaining and upbeat Brett (affectionately known as 'Ooch') used music, magic, imagination, yo-yos, and dance to empower children to turn negative situations into positive ones.

Children also got to experience the performing arts with music events starring the Toe Jam Puppet Band, Karen K. & the Jitterbugs, Steve Blunt & Friends, and musician Matt Heaton as well as a live theatre production of Beauty and the Beast by the Hampstead Stage Co. A visit from Animal World Experience and the fascinating live Caterpillar Lab were also favorite programs. The highlight of the summer was the Tanglewood Marionettes' enchanting production of The Dragon King.

YEAR-ROUND PROGRAMS FOR CHILDREN & FAMILIES

This year we offered 256 children's programs with 4,390 kids attending!

Snow Better Time to Read! Winter Reading Program. 60 kids in grades K-4 signed up for Winter Reading in February, and 28 met the goal of reading 15 minutes for 15 days! For this, they earned a prize and a raffle ticket for either a movie pass or gift card to Barnes & Noble.

Other special programs included:

Rolie Polie Guacamole concert

Teddy Bear Picnic concert with musician Philip Alexander

Weekly Drop-in Preschool Craft

8 Tales & Tunes music programs for infants, toddlers, and preschoolers with over 500 attending!

Young Adults on the Move

Thanks to the Endowment, we now have a collection of twenty-five audiobook Playaways®! Unlike physical discs or downloads, this all-in-one digital player comes pre-loaded with an audiobook and is ready to use! Just plug in your headphones and press 'play'! Parents and kids love them!

*"These are amazing.
This is the coolest thing ever!"*

NEW! 1,000 BOOKS BEFORE KINDERGARTEN!

Inspired by the 1000 Books Foundation, we are excited to announce the start of the 1,000 Books before Kindergarten initiative at the library! Children ages 0-5 (pre-K) and their parents or caregivers who sign up will receive a FREE 1,000 books activity journal and book bag, courtesy of the GPL Endowment. Research shows that the most reliable predictor of school success is being read to at home during early childhood. For more information about this program, stop by the Children's Room or read more at 1000booksbeforekindergarten.org.

GPL welcomes teens in every area of the library. They can be found using the computers in the reference area after school, booking a study room to work on a group project, coming to programs in the meeting rooms, working to shelve books in the children's room, volunteering in the teen area, checking out materials on the mid-level, and researching on the 3rd floor. Even so, we are thrilled to be creating a dedicated teen room that will be a space for the teens to call their very own. The young adult collection will move upstairs, adjacent to the teen room which will have booth seating, a computer counter, lounge chairs, and a conference table. The Endowment has supported our teen area in the past with furnishings and equipment and has provided funds for the new booth and other furnishings for our new space. We can't wait to move in! Looking forward is exciting, but looking back over this past year is also gratifying. We have a strong offering of programs supported by Endowment funds, most notably our summer and winter reading programs, the llama lounge that attracts scores of middle school students on half-days, and the half a dozen clubs that meet on a regular basis. The Endowment is the foundation of our exceptional teen programs and spaces.

The Big Burn!

by Vanessa Abraham, Library Director

The Big Burn: Teddy Roosevelt and the fire that saved America by Timothy Egan (2009) was this year's choice for our annual community-wide reading event. In this bestselling work of non-fiction, National Book Award-winner Egan writes the compelling true story of the single largest fire ever recorded in the United States – an apocalyptic blaze that burned an area the size of Connecticut in 36 hours in Idaho, Montana, and Washington. No living person had ever seen a fire with the ferocity, speed, and destructive power of the Big Burn of 1910. Equally dramatic and engaging is the larger story of Teddy Roosevelt and Gifford Pinchot, and the creation myth of the U.S. Forest Service.

The Big Burn sparked many great programs, including:

An Afternoon with TEDDY ROOSEVELT, with actor/author/educator Ted Zalewski

Discussion with Groton Fire Chief STEELE MCCURDY, following the viewing of 2014 PBS documentary based on Egan's book

ANSEL ADAMS: Environmentalist & Photographer with Art Professor Lance Hidy

WILLIAM WHARTON: Groton's Early Conservationist with Frank Lowenstein of the New England Forestry Foundation. Co-sponsored with the Groton History Center.

GROTON FIRES with Groton's Leroy Johnson and Fire Chief McCurdy.

SMOKEY BEAR: Groton Firefighters and Smokey Bear came to GPL!

FIRE MAKING with Bow Drills, with Primitive Skills Instructor Tim Swanson

Thanks to the Groton Fire Department, especially Chief Steele McCurdy, for your wonderful participation in and support of this year's Groton Reads!

Art Gallery News

by Ken Hansen, Art Gallery Coordinator

Darcy Schults, Nina Earley, SaraNoa Mark

Wendy Frank talks about husband Ray Ciemny's creative process.

Opposite: Seven Hills Director and Free Expressions staff.

Newburyport Art Association members— joined in their mutual enthusiasm for painting out of doors— opened our fall season. Cynthia Cooper, Dale Partis Greene, Susan Jaworski-Stranc, Margery M. Jennings, Marjet Lesk, Susan Luca, Janet MacLeod, Susan Spellman, and Janet Sutherland shared a selection of North Shore landscape inspirations in Newburyport Air.

Taking the theme of landscape into a more abstract realm, Places Recalled featured three young artists from very diverse geographic backgrounds: Nina Earley was born in Switzerland and currently makes Boston her home; SaraNoa Mark comes from Chicago by way of Philadelphia; and Darcy Schultz returned east, settling in Groton, after several years in Portland, Oregon.

Our “winter warmer” Quilts exhibit showcased the collective talents of Cathy Bellino (Chelmsford), Cathy Granese (Stoneham), Ginger Parker (Littleton), Dorry Swain (Shirley), and Allison Wilbur (Bristol, RI).

Cambridge artist Linda Branch Dunn shared her poignant mixed-media meditations on memory, change, and loss in Paper Dolls.

As Ray Ciemny tells it, I made him give up several Sundays to prepare a body of original work for Recast. I believe he feels it was well worth it. The resulting exhibit signaled an exciting new direction for our Ray.

The Seven Hills Pediatric Center of Groton has a wonderful art program serving their resident special needs patients. Free Expressions allows young people with various physical challenges to express themselves creatively, with the help of specialized staff members.

We were fortunate to be the first public venue to display a collection of these impressive artworks.
